

VITRIFICATION WORKSHOP

7th – 8th June 2008

Learn something new in 2008! Improve your skills and benefit your clinic!

Vitrification has been adopted by several leading Australian IVF clinics and has shown a marked improvement in their frozen embryo transfer results.

This workshop is designed for embryologists (research and clinical) who wish to improve their understanding of vitrification both theoretically and practically. It will be lead by staff from Monash Institute of Medical Research.

The workshop will provide extensive hands-on practical skills development in vitrification and warming together with lab-based discussion groups.

PROGRAM
Practicals	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Video demonstrations of vitrification • Preparation of media for vitrification and thawing • Hands on, one on one training for vitrification and thawing of mouse embryos • Independent practical skills training in vitrification, thawing and culturing of embryos. • Mouse embryos of all stages and mouse and sheep oocytes available.
Discussion groups	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Recent clinical experiences and success stories with embryo vitrification • Media and devises available for vitrification: knowing what is important?
